Parade Plans Readied

The Marina "Good Old Days" Committee of the Marina Chamber of Commerce held a meeting on February 12, 1073 at the Marina Community Center.

It was reported by Harry Bogucki, Chairman of Judges that Professional Judges would judge this year's parade. The All American Parade and Contest Judges will judge the parade proper, the California State Horsemen's Association will judge all mounted units and individual mounted riders. Individual child entrants in pre-parade will be judged by a local committee. Individuals desiring to assist in seating VIPs should contact Mr. Bogucki, Post Office Box 425, Marina.

So far, 41 entries have been received for the parade. This includes bands, drill teams, marching units, individual mounted riders, riding clubs, antique cars and floats; also many dignitaries. The Fort Ord Angles Twirling Corps, under the leadership of Mrs. Jean Selmer, will again appear in this year's parade. Organizations or individuals desiring to paarticipate in the parade should contact Parade Chairman Robert R. Robbins, P.O. Box 425, Marina.

George Herman, Senior Citizen Chairman reported that the Senior Citizens of Marina are seeking the oldest person living in Marina and also the resident who has lived the most years in Marina. If you know someone who fits this category, please contact Mr. Herman at P.O. Box 425, Marina.

In addition, Regina Battle, the Peninsula's own Miss Black Teenage California, will ride in the parade.

TO APPEAR - Regina Battle, Miss Black Teenage California, will ride in upcoming Marina Parade, to be held April 29.

MPC Observing Black History Week Thru Friday

Students at Monterey Peninsula College will observe Black History through this Friday, March 2.

Avariety of activities have been planned for the coming week by sponsors, the Black Students Union, including concerts, readings, films and an exhibit by black artists. A "Soul Food Dinner" will be held Friday evening in the College Center, and a formal dance has been planned for late in the week, although exact time and place have not been announded.

Seaside High Band Ready For Tucson

After nearly three months of raising money for a trip to Tucson, Arizona, the Seaside High School concert band is not only ready to roll -- it's going to fly down there.

Band Director Jack Bayes has announced that sufficient funds have been raised for the journey, including one donation that will cover the cost of a chartered jet plane for the trip down.

"It's been a really heartwarming campaign," Bayes said. "There's been so much support from every side, and from all over the Peninsula. We want to thank all the individuals, businesses and service clubs that were so helpful and so generous, as well as the news media for helping us publicize our fund-raising events."

Seaside High's band was one of three chosen from California to perform at the Western Division annual meeting of the Music Educators National Conference in Tucson. After that conert, on Marcy 1, the band will put in a marching appearance at Disneyland.

Bayes put out an appeal in early December to individuals, clubs and businesses to raise money for the trip. Band members also staged carwashes, bake sales, rummage sales, a candy sale and concerts to help raise funds.

"They put in a tremendous number of hours," he said.

Much of the money, he said, came from service clubs and several businesses, and some came from individual donors. The chartered plan was donated by Mrs. Rowena Chohan, owner of Ocean View Cablevision Inc., who said her staff was so impressed with the community involvement revolving around the band's money raising efforts that they wanted to donate a full year's promotional budget -- enough to charter the plane.

In addition, the band was given $1,800 by directors of the Monterey Jazz Festival, and $500 from the Fine Arts and Crafts Festival.

Another impressive gift was the $200 donation voted by the student council at Fitch Junior High School. Fitch Principal James Malone explained that his students wanted to donate the money because many of the band members are Fitch graduates, and because tenth grade members helped raise the money at Fitch while in the ninth grade.

Originally, Bays had estimated that the trip would cost less than $4,000.

Correction

On February 21, 1973 the Seaside Post - News Sentinal stated that Mr. Tony C. Sison was president of Fil-American Club. His corrent title is: "Representative Of Advisory Committee On Racial Balance To Superintendent Of School Board."

The Publisher apologizes for any inconvenience caused by the error.

Club Donates $1,00 To Band

The Retired Men's Social Club presented a $1,000 check to Jack R. Bayes, director of Seaside High Band, Monday to help defray the expense of their trip to Tucson, Arizona.

Presenting the check was club president James C. Stevenson Sr., along with councilman Stephen Ross and George Williams, assistant treasurer of The Retired Men's Club.

The Retired Men's Club became involved in the venture to assist the band members after being contacted by the Seaside High Letter Girls, and SFC. Jose Garcia, fund drive chairman. The club then decided to sponsor a Drawing and a Teen Dance and band members and letter girls would sell the tickets. At the end of the threeweek drive, the students had collected approximately $1,140 after all incurring expenses had been paid.

The club also donated $140.00 to the Lettergirls for new uniforms to be worn during their trip with the band.

The drawing consisted of three prizes, a $200 bond, a $150 bond and a $100 bond which were given away Saturday night during the Teen Dance at Seaside High School.

The club also gave first, second and third place prizes to the students who sold the most tickets. Winners were Genevieve Ingrams, $25; Janet Curry, $15, and Michael McKinney, $10.

Winners of the bonds were L.G. Ayers, Marina; R. Crane, Castroville, and H.W. Novak, Capitola.

than that will be needed, because of the fifficulty in finding accomodations on the trip and other factors, he said. Any excess money will be used to buy needed band uniforms and instruments, he said.

Because they will be able to fly to Tucson, band members will avoid the necessity of rehearsing "on the road," and will also have to miss two days less school, Baye noted. The trip back, through Disneyland, will be made on two chartered buses.

Meanwhile, the band marched in San Francisco's Chinese New Years Parade and performed Friday, February 23 in the Monterey Peninsula College Music Hall. The Friday night perfomance was free, and was staged especially for contributors to the Arizona travel fund. The band also played at Fitch Junior High School Thursday, February 22, at 10:30 a.m.

The band will depart from Monterey Peninsula Airport via a chartered Hughes Air West DC 10. The nearly 80 students, plus chaperones, will arrive in Tucson 90 minutes later. After their March 1 performance there, the students will board buses on March 2 and head for Disneyland The band will march down Diseneyland's Main Street March 3 to 5 p.m. It will return to Seaside High School March 4 at about 6 p.m.

Pre-School Programs Doomed By Nixon Cuts

Three academic preschool programs operated by the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District will be shut down by April 1 unless Congress approves emergency funding to keep them going, district trustees were told recently.

Mrs. Charlie Knight, director of special projects for the school district, said the action is a result of cutbacks in federal financing of special education programs announced by President Nixon.

In addition to closing down the programs at Noche Buena, Bay View and Marina Del Mar schools, the reduction in federal help will force curtailment of services and fee increases in day care operations at the Monterey and Seaside Children's Centers, according to Mrs. Knight. She said special programs at ESEA Title I "target" schools are also affected. All purchase orders will be frozen at those schools and plans for an outdoor education unit will have to be cancelled, she said.

Trustees told administrators to send a letter to the district's Congressional representative and the state's two senators, telling them of the need to continue the special education programs and informing them about academic gains made by students involved in the programs.

In other action, the board received no bids on a 12-acre school site it is attempting to sell, but was informed that the city of Monterey wants to buy the land. The board was asking $176,000 for the property located on Skyline Drive next to the Veterans Memorial Park. That asking price represents the highest of three appraisals done on the land, and a city representative told trustees the city is more interested in meeting the value of the lowest appraisal -- about $110,000. City and school officials will be reviewing the three appraisals in an effort to arrive at a price acceptable to both public agencies. The city has expressed interest in buying the property and expanding the adjacent park.

Trustees approved a policy and administrative procedures to set up a network of community advisory groups that will be involved in establishing an Early Childhood Education program in the district.

The board was brought up to date on plans for a district-wide "needs assessment survey" that will include parents, students, teachers and other district employees in helping to establish priorities for spending in next year's budget. The survey will attempt to find out whether or not district educational goals are sound and then deal with setting priorities for various educational programs. State legislation that revamped the school financing formula and eliminated most permissive taxes for special programs brought about the need for the survey, because all such programs must now be paid for from the general fund.

A team of four students from the Marine base at Quantico, Virginia told the board it will be at Fort Ord for two weeks to train 12 Seaside High School students in talking with elementary students about drugs and other concerns.

CLINT C. PORTER, Asst. Publisher

It happened! Here I sit with a completely blank mind. I am hoping that soon a thought will come to me that I want to talk about. Just be a little patient. This could happen to anyone, I'm sure. So what we are going to do is just ramble until something happens.

I could start off by informing you that I have been promoted. I am now the Assistant Publisher of the Seaside Post - News Sentinel. I could tell you a little about myself. I had previously worked for the Post Newspaper Group out of the Main Office in Berkeley. I was strictly a display ad man. But I could sell for all of the papers in the Group. The advertisers have a choice between six newspapers, depending upon where he wanted to concentrate his energies. He could choose the Berkeley, Oakland, San Francisco, Seaside, Richmond Posts or El Mundo Spanish Language Newspaper. So Display Advertising was not limited. And an advertiser could put his ad in all of the papers if he so chose.

Meanwhile I was tripping down to the Monterey Peninsula every couple of months (at least) for Festivals, Dances, Fairs, Open House Parties, etc., and when Andy Barragan became ill I was the first to volunteer to come down and help him. It was to be for a short time, so I grabbed a motel room and started working.

I soon discovered that it is impossible to work around a man as "together" as Andy without it rubbing off on you. I liked the work, I liked the area, I liked the community, and best of all I loved Andy.

Since I have been here I have made numerous acquaintances and many lasting friends. Believe it or not, most of them were made through this column. I have appreciated all the comments, letters, and invitations received as a direct result of SEASIDE RIPPLES. Now that I have been promoted, I will never knowingly betray a trust or,

Today's Army NEWS By SSG R. Cardwell ARMY RECRUITER

Hi everybody.

This week's article is pertaining to veterans who are interested in opening a Small Business. What is a small business? According to the Small Business Administration, there are three main criteria by which your business can be judged big business or small business. To be small, a business must be independently owned and operated. (Not be part of a larger business). Secondly, it must not be dominant in tis field of operation. And thirdly, a Small Business must not exceed prescribed standrads in both annual sales volume and number of employees. Both these numbers vary depending on the type of business. Generally, if the annual sales volume is over $1,000,000, its big business.

Vietnam-era veterans, attempting to go into business, may be ablt to take advantage of liberal loan policies made available by the Small Business Administration (SBA). Vets who have served at any time after October 1964 are eligible for the loans if they cannot obtain suitable loans from regular banks without meeting unreasonable terms. While there is no definition of unreasonable terms, an SBA spokeman said as an example that it would be rough for a person coming out of service to repay a large loan over a three-year period at high interest rates. The terms of the loans are the same as those used by SBA to encourage minority group members to go into business. The idea is that veterans, like minority group members, have not had the opportunity to accumulate capital.

The SBA charges current interest rates of 6-1/4 percent on its direct loans. In joint loans, banks may currently charge 7-3/4 percent on their portions of loans with SBA still charging 6-1/4. When banks make the loan with the SBA guaranteeing it, the bank may presently charge 8-3/4 percent interest. The current prime rate of interest is 6 percent. A bank may never go over 3 percent higher than this rate in the program. Interested veterans should call or write their nearest SBA office.

TODAY'S ARMY has over 300 good jobs that will offer young men and women who are non-veterans the opportunity to begin a career or get a trade and become eligible for benefits while serving on active duty. For information concerning these jobs, please call 372-4742/ 372-0553. Or stop by 431-Webster St. Monterey to inquire.

in any way, cause doubt as to my sincerity towards the community I have grown to love. We are happy to announce that indirectly we were responsible for the return (or whatever) of a recent runaway. Someone saw the photograph in the paper and their recognizing the picture brought about the return of the person to the parents.

You see, people DO read this paper. Not only do they read the paper, but they comment on some of the things they read. A reverse of that was the question asked me last week when WALTER'S only had a small ad in the paper. It was noticed and we told them that the community has to wait until Mr. Norwick re-stocks because they almost bought everything in the store for up to 50 percent off on all "other than fair-trade" items on sale. I have been assured by Mr. Norwick that there is an even greater sale coming in the near future. So my suggestion to you is for you to continue reading the paper and maybe you will be able to take advantage of it again.

Monday, while eating lunch at POP'S RESTAURANT in Marina, a lady and I began talking about premonitions, superstitions, intuitions, and God. She said that everytime she and her husband begin a trip she always extends her hands up to touch God's hands. Once that has been accomplished she knows the trip will be a success. And it always is. She further stated that over her sink in the kitchen she once had a plaque (or poem) hanging which said that as you place your hands in the dish water and swirl them around, then wait .. the ripples created will soon calm down and the water will become still again. Meaning: All Things Must Pass. It was a delightful conversation, and refreshing in the middle of the day when work and duty are pressing.

The other day Mr. and Mrs. Wolff of WOLFF'S BAKERY AND DELICATESSEN walked into the office to place an ad for this week (look at it). They have just returned from an extended and well-deserved vacation. Mr. Wolff has not been feeling too well lately and the vacation did him good. He looked fine and well-rested. Now they are ready to get back into the swing of things and serve their many customers who patiently awaited their return. I shall cut this column short this week because I do not have the space I need to speak of the thing I need to speak of; Love and Faith. Instead let me close with something I read in EITHER/OR, by Kierkegaard: "Truth - Do not check your soul's flight, do not grieve the better promptings within you, do not dull your spirit with half-wishes and half-thoughts, ask yourself, and contrive to ask until you find the answer; for one may have known a thing many times and attempted it, and yet it is only by the deep inward movements, only by the indescribable emotions of the heart, that for the first time you are convinced what you have known belongs to you, that no power can take it from you, for only the truth which edifies is truth for you."

Andy interjects here to remind you that our advertisers are the ones who keep this paper coming your way. Patronize them and tell them about us.

Letter to the Editor

Editor: The article on Racial Balance and Integration by Tony C. Sison, President of Fil American Club, was one of the most inspiring articles that I have ever read. I hope that each reader who had the opportunity to read this article would take heed to the message, by keeping America beautiful and help make it a wonderful place in which to live.

Learn About Butterflies

A free lecture on the Monarch butterfly will be presented twice by William Coleman, "the Butterfly Man," at Monterey Peninsula College on Thursday, March 1, in LF-101.

Coleman's lecture, from 12 to 1 p.m. and 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., is entitled "The Silent Flyer." The talk will be about the habits of Monarchs, their reproduction, identification, history and current status.

Coleman has done extensive research of the Monarch butterfly for Fred Urquhart, a professor at the University of Toronto, Canada. Coleman has tagged over 24,500 Monarchs. He has spent 23 years as a gardner and a ranger-naturalist for the California Park Service.

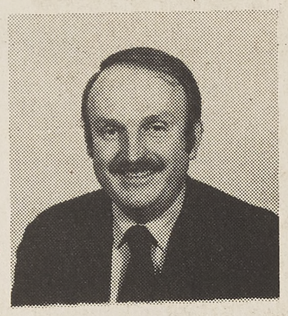
Your Supervisor Reports



ROGER POYNER

Last week I attended the "New Supervisors Institute" presented by the County Supervisors Association of California (CSAC). It was held at the Woodlake Inn in Sacramento. I was interested to learn that there were 82 new supervisors elected in 1972. When you consider that two years ago there were some 50 new supervisors elected and that there are 296 supervisors in California the result is a 45 percent turnover in tow years; the largest voter induced exodus of incumbent supervisors in the history of California!

The emohasis of the institute was to acquaint the new supervisors with current and proposed state and federal laws and regulations. Various panel discussions over the three days covered county health services, transportation, revenue sharing, planning and land use, modernization of county government, employer-employee relations, criminal justice and administration, welfare, and other topics.

The "Calamity County" mock board of supervisors composed of experienced supervisors from various counties conducted a how-not to-do-it board meeting. Humor is often the best eacher. The skit dealt with the limits of a board's power, the anti-secret meeting law (the Brown act), and parlimentary procedure.

To be effective as your supervisor I must be familier with and deal with government at all levels. The institute was certainly helpful in that regard and in putting me in personal touch with many important "decision makers".

Chamber of Commerce Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford, Executive Director

The next Board of Directors Meeting of the Chamber will be Thursday, March 1, at 8 a.m. at the Chamber office. Everyone is invited to attend and express their ideas.

Subjects to be discussed will be Membership . . .the Membership Committee is now in the midst of a new membership drive. We are trying to encourage residents and individuals to join the Chamber as associate members. It would be good to get input from non-business people in the community as well as all the businessmen and women.

We have been discussing the possibility of having social mixers once a month and a general membership meeting every two months.

Other committee reports will be Government Affairs, which is trying to organize and get more interest in legislative and political action on a local, county, state and national level. One of the things stressed at the recent state-wide Chamber of Commerce Executives Conference at the Holiday Inn, is that businessmen and women must become involved in the political activities of their cities and counties, because new laws and taxes affect each of our lives directly. Politicians need information from a grass-roots level, or they will make decisions based on information from pressure groups that may not be for the free enterprise system or may not represent what the residents really want.

Another role of the Chamber of Commerce nationwide is to help citizens organize for action. Organizing for consumerism, organizing against crime, organizing to provide jobs and strengthening the voice of citizens everywhere. The role of the Chamber of Commerce in Seaside is decided by you. . . the businessman, the citizen. The Chamber can be the focal point of the community; it can be the one place where all factions meet. This past year has shown us that this is possible. We have started many new programs, involving many different people.

For example, Career education has brought businessmen, educators and students closer together. . .hopefully, with a better understanding of each other.

Business Development through the Chamber meetings has brought City Officials, Redevelopment Agency Staff, and businessmen closer together with a better understanding of planning and development.

These are just some of the areas of concern in Seaside. We also are involved in promotion, information and public relations. Programs of Work and concrete results should be the goal of the Chamber. It is up to the members to determine the priorities and to fulfill them. It is the responsibility of all businessmen and residents and all people interested in the continued progress for Seaside to become active members in the Seaside Chamber of Commerce.

For more information and an even stronger sales pitch, call me at 394-6501.

People To People

Diane H. Wagner
Program Director
Service Club #1, Ft. Ord.

The Seaside City Council and City personnel competed with the enlisted Men of B C T Brigade, Fort Ord in a basketball game on Sunday, February 25th with the final score of 45 to 42 in favor of Fort Ord. The game was held at Group Gymnasium in the 1st B C T Training Brigade area. The joint Service Club #1 and Sports Branch activity was one of many programs being entered in the 1973 Sixth US Army Service Club Portfolio Contest.

Representing Seaside were: Mayor Joe Dolan; Councilman Steve Ross; Joe Cota; Councilwoman Billie Barton; Community School Leader J.J. Jones; City Manager Dudley Lapham; Program Specialist Jerry Ogle; Councilman Glen Olea; and Recreation Department Supervisor Dick Busse.

The Ft. Ord team consisted of: SSG Steve Cheatum (C-1-1); SFC R.E. Robinson (H-5-1); Sgt. Herman Butler (H-5-1); Pvt. Mike Comic (C-5-1); Pvt. James Crocket (C-5-1); Pvt. Joseph Reid (Train. Command); Pvt. Leon Holmes (1st Bde HHD); Pfc. Walter Reid (B-4-1); and Pvt. William Overton (D-4-1).

Officiating the game of the season were James Bonner (1st Sgt., ret.) and Dick Woodie, Community School Director. Cheerleaders were Marty Feliciano of Seaside and Pat Reid of Ft. Ord.

The composite theme for Ft. Ord Service Clubs this year is TARGET: SURVIVAL. Service Club #1 is doing a "People to People" series involving many community groups and volunteers with mankind as the focal point for survival.

TRANSPORTATION

Seaside has 7,500 people who regularly travel back and forth to Fort Ord! These comuters are in these categories: 3,800 retired military and their dependents; 1,850 active duty personnel including their dependents; 1,600 civil service employees; governmental liaison, contractors, and merchant representatives conservatively account for another 250. Each of these categories must use privately owned transportation to Fort Ord.

We have received yet another urgent request for expansion of Public Transportation. The letter is very germane and it is included with this report for the purpose of disclosing our interrelated problems that must be solved. The letter is quoted in its entirety because it reflects views that have been conveyed to us by many Marina residents and Fort Ord personnel.

"Dear Friends:

From the "Your Mayor Reports" column in the Post News-Sentinel, I learn that "a flexible and adequate mass transportation system, to include services for Ft. Ord, begs a solution." I am glad that problem is urgently before the officials of Seaside. It is vitally important.

May I hope that you consider such a system being extended to Marina, as well as Ft. Ord. As you know, Marina has 12,000 residents, some of whom have no cars and others do not have the use of their cars at times. Many of us, I feel certain, desire to go to Seaside for one thing or another - including to shop - and rarely do so because of lack of transportation.

The Greyhound bus goes dowr Reservation Road only - in our village - then on Highway No. 1 as it travels from Salinas to Monterey. It has no bus station in Seaside and merely makes a momentary stop on the highway, at a poor spot, to let one off. Besides not being handy for most people in Marina - except for the relatively few near Reservation Road - the Greyhound goes, much of the time, every two or three hours apart. If one does not take the 9:49 a.m. bus, the next one from Marina is 1:38; after that the bus comes at 3:28 p.m.!

I understand Seaside is the fast growing city on the Peninsula; already it has become the largest in population. Who knows - if the majority of those who vote in our village do not approve, in 1974, for our village to become a city - there may then be a possibility that Marina people may want to be annexed to Seaside. It seems to me that three strikes ought to be out in any ballgame - twice already the Marina as a city idea was voted down, admittedly last time by only 47 voters.

The more people from Marina that visit, often, Seaside the more friendly an atmosphere may develop between the two neighbors. When such an extended system of transportation becomes a reality - frequent, comfortable, courteous-perhaps also, as in many other cities in our nation, senior citizens can be accorded a special rate, better yet a montly pass at reduced rate. What a Godsend that will be for many of them! Who knows, the bus company may get the idea a monthly pass, at some fair rate, may be advisable for all below the age of the elderly retired.

Best wishes.
Sincerely yours,
George Herman

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

I wish I could feel sorry for the Army for having two lesbians on the payroll who got married to each other a week or two ago, but I can't. I think it is funny, and I am anxiously waiting to see if the Gay Liberation front is going to be able to force the Army to keep them on grounds it would be discrimination to discharge them.

However, by now I expect they are both on their way with the blessings of the Army and a couple discharges of something less than honorable type in their pockets. Just one thing, though. Maybe some reader could tell me how the minister would work in the part of the ceremony where he would ordinarily say, "I now pronounce you man and wife."

Another item I found interesting this week was from Atlanta. A police officer stopped two men for questioning. One of them pulled a carbine from under his coat and shot at the officer. The officer shot the suspect, ran for cover, then shot and killed the other suspect who had opened fire on him. What tickled me was that while the officer was taking cover some fellow came from mowhere and fired three shots at the supect who was on the ground, all of which means that Atlanta is a bad place to pick a gunfight with a police officer unless you know who is standing around watching.

Occasionally we read of a reward being offered for some bandit or murderer, and once in a while a fellow is caught who might not otherwise be caught. I happen to take a dim view of the increase in robberies and murders, and about two weeks ago when I read of a man in Seaside who ran out and shot an armed bandit who had just held him up my first impulse was to send him ten dollars in appreciation.

From there it was a short jump to the idea that I should offer a standing reward of say ten dollars to anybody who shoots and hits a man (or woman) who is in the act of using a deadly weapon in the commission of a crime, or who is attempting to escape from a robbery or murder or an attempt at either one. Ten dollars is not much, but if enough other people who are getting sick and tired of robberies and murders going on and increasing would care to add to the fund, it might make crime so umpopular on our Monterey Peninsula that some of these criminals might decide to move elsewhere.

First, of course, I have to check on the legal aspects of setting up such an anti-crime program. I wouldn't want some housewife trying to collect a reward for bumping off a bandit who turned out to be her husband coming home drunk again.

OFFICER DANIEL HARVEY:

Officer Daniel Harvey has been affiliated with the Seaside Police Department since April 1960 when he joined as a Reserve Police Officer because of the persistence of his brother Ken Harvey, who at that time was a Police Officer working with Seaside. Daniel worked in the capacity of a Reserve Officer until May 1965 when he was sworn in as a regular police officer. Since becoming a regular officer, Daniel has worked as a patrolman and traffic officer. In addition he has the responsibility of filling the position of acting watch commander in the absence of the patrol Sergeant.

Daniel is a graduate of the Police Academy located at Gavilan College. He will be a 1973 graduate of Monterey Peninsula College and during his tenure he has attended numerous institutes and classes to further his education in the field of law enforcement. He is active in youth programs which are sponsored by the police department.

Daniel is a native of Seaside, graduating from Monterey High School in 1955. Enlisting in the Marines, he served as a Jet Mechanic for three years in such places as Japan, Philippine Islands and El Toro Marine Base. After his discharge, Daniel again resumed his residency in Seaside, where he still lives with his family.

Away from the job Daniel enjoys camping, hunting and fishing. Though he lays no claim to fame for his expertise in fishing but he has been known to bring home prizes for near record Bass.

Future plans and goals include continued education even after graduation from Monterey Peninsula College and to go as far as possible in the field of law enforcement. It is a pleasure to have Officer Harvey associated with the Seaside Police Department.

Form 1040 U.S. Individual ... for the ... January 1-December 31, 19..., or other taxable year ... U.S. Treasury Department—Internal Revenue Service ... Last name ... First name and initial (if joint return, ...

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) My daughter earned more than $750 from a summer job last year. Can I still claim her as a dependent?

A) If your daughter was a full-time student regardless of age for some part of each of any five months of 1972 or was less than 19 years old at the end of the year, you can claim her as a dependent regardless of how much money she made, provided all the other dependency tests are met, including furnishing over one-half of your daughter's total support.

Q) My father can claim me as a dependent. Last year I earned $745 from a part-time job and received $10 interest on my savings account. Is it true that I won't have to file a return because I don't have $2050 in income?

A) No. A change in the tax law requires a dependent who received $750 or more in gross income, which included unearned income (interest, dividends, etc.) of any amount, to file a return.

Many persons in these circumstances would have been filing a return anyway to recover any tax withheld.

Q) If I itemize my deductions, do I have to use the tables in your tax forms package to compute a sales tax deduction?

A) No. Use of the tables is optional. You may deduct the actual sales tax you paid on purchases, but be sure to keep the records to justify your deduction.

If you use the sales tax tables to determine your deduction, you may add to the amount shown in the tables the sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile, airplane, boat, mobile home and materials used to build a new home where you are your own contractor.

Q) Would it be more advantageous for me to take a deduction or credit for a political contribution I made last year?

tax credit will be more advan-

A) For most taxpayers, the tageous. However, higher income taxpayers may find the itemized deduction more advantageous. If you take the standard deduction or compute your tax from the tables in your tax form instructions, you may take only the tax credit; you may not deduct your political contribution.

Q) The person I paid to fill out my tax return has not signed it. Should I make sure that he does?

A) Yes. Anyone who prepares your return for compensation is required to sign it in the space provided. Spaces are also provided for the preparer's employer identification number or social security number, his address and the date he signs the return. If he refuses, you should print his name in the space provided.

Q) I think I'm eligible to file the short Form 1040A this year, but didn't get one in the mail. Where can I obtain a copy?

A) Telephone or visit your local IRS office. Forms are also available at many banks and post offices.

Q) Are there any limitations on how much you can deduct for qualified child care expenses?

A) Yes. The maximum deduction for any calendar month for child care expenses incurred in your home is $400. Expenses for the care of your dependent children under the age of 15, if performed outside your household, are limited for each month to: $200 a month for one child; $300 a month for two children; or $400 a month for three or more children.

In addition, your deductible expenses must be reduced by one-half of the amount by which your adjusted gross income exceeds $18,000 for one year. For more details, see your Form 1040 instructions or write your Internal Revenue district office for a free copy of IRS Publication 503, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care."

MARSHMALLOW CREAM FUDGE

TO delight the kiddies - and that grownup little boy.

1 jar marshmallow cream;
1 small can evaporated milk;
1/4 cup butter;
1-1/2cups sugar;
1/4 teaspoon salt;
2 packages chocolate bits;
1 teaspoon vanillia;
1/2 cup chopped nuts (optional).

Combine marshmallow cream, evaporated milk, butter, sugar, and salt in a saucepan and bring to a full boil. Stirring constantly, boil for five minutes over moderate heat. Remove from stove and add chocolate bits, vanilla and nuts. Stir until chocolate is melted. Pour in greased pan and chill until firm. When ready to serve, cut in squares. Makes about 2-1/4 pounds.

PG&E Kite Fun Book Stresses Flying Safety

After a long winter the spring kite flying season is here again with both its fun and potential danger.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the comic character Pink Panther have some kite flying hints and eight easy-to-follow safety rules for kite fliers, young and old. They are contained in the Pink Panther Kite Fun Book now being distributed to elementary school children in PGYE's Northern and Central California service area.

The kite fun booklets are available at any PG&E office and are free for the asking. The comic book provides kite making directions and things for young kite fliers to do while waiting for good clear days with gentle breezes to take kites aloft.

Safety rules for kite fliers, which parents should go over with their children, include:

* Fly your kite away from power lines.
* Always use dry string, never wire or anything metallic.
* Always use wood and paper in kites, never metal or wire.
* Don't fly your kite in the rain.
* Don't cross streets or highways when kite flying.
* Always fly your kite away from television and radio antennas.
* Always call your power company if your kite gets snagged in a power line. Don't pull the string or climb power poles to get the kite down.
* Always keep away from fallen wires.

Children's Movie Class Beginning

Has your child asked, "Mommy, where do movies come from?"

A straight-forward answer to that question will be presented in a workship for children between 8 and 12 years of age at Monterey Peninsula College.

Sam Harrison, a local film maker and film production instructor at MPC, will teach the workshop. It will be held on four consecutive Saturdays, beginning March 3, from 1-3 p.m. in A-9.

According to Harrison, the workshop is designed to satisfy the child's curiosity by providing a creative outlet. Participants in the class will make their own movies using marking tools and blank film. They will be able to see their work come to life on the screen.

A $6 registration fee will be charged for the workshop, and the size of the class will be limited to 35 children. Registration should be completed by the first meeting. Information and registration instructions may be obtained by calling MPC Community Services, 375-9821, ext. 335.

Judo Tournament Is Scheduled

On Sunday, March 11, the Monterey Buddhist Judo Club will host an INVITATIONAL Judo Tournament. Site of the Tournament will be the Gym at Monterey Peninsula College, 980 Fremont Boulevard, Monterey. Tournament times is 12:30 p.m.

Judo clubs from the Central Coast area have been invited to participate so there will be a large number of competitors. Contestants will be Juniors, (ages 7-12) and Intermediates, (ages 13-16). Entry fee for participants is $2. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

An officials meeting will be held at 11:30 to discuss rules and procedures.

The public is welcome to view the tournament, and there is no admission charge. A refreshment stand will be open to serve snacks for a nominal charge.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Is Underway

Little sales ladies will be the move through March 10 with cartons of Girl Scout Cookies.

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale is an established fund raising project in thsi area as well as all over the United States. Girls learn good sales techniques, how to make change, and to be courteous while preforming a service for the council and earning money for their own troop projects.

The Cookie Sale is conducted with approval of the United Funds and Community Chests to supplemented their allocations to the Girl Scouts.

The major portion of the net proceeds are used for ttaining volunteers, camping, service projects, and other program activities, maintaining three centers for volunteer and staff use, and providing materials and services to all of the over 7,000 girls and adults in the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council. Troops retain a small portion to supplement their own troop treasuries.

The sale is limited to girls beyond the Brownie age as it is believed they are old enough to benefit from the experience.

Large sized boxes of Chocolate and Vanilla Cremes, Shortbread, Peanut Butter Patties, and Mint Patties are available at $1 a box.

If you are not called on by a young saleslady call the Girl Scout Center nearest you, listed in the phone book.

IRS Tells Why RefundsDelayed

"Where is my refund?" is a question asked by thousands of Northern California taxpayers every year, District Director of In- E. Kingman, said recently.

For many, the answer is that the refund is held up because the Post Office cannot deliver the check. People move without leaving a forwarding address, Mr. Kingman said.

Another reason is that the taxpayer's name or address is illegible on the return.

Highway 1 Reopened

State Highway Engineer Robert J. Datel has announced that Highway 1 from Morro Bay to Carmel was opened to traffic early Thursday morning, February 22.

A one-way signal controlled detour is in effect at the Lafler Canyon washout approximately five miles south of Big Sur. It is a one-way, unpaved 500 foot detour at present and is subject to closure during inclement weather.

Datel added that for a distance of approximately 36 miles of Lafler Canyon, other lane closures are in effect. The area of restricted roadway begins about 5 miles north of the Monterey/San Luis Obispo County line and extends to the Lafler Canyon location.

Datel urged travelers to exercise caution on this portion of Highway 1.

He said that permanent restoration of the roadway at the Lafler Canyon washout which occurred February 11 is expected to take several months. The start of work on the section is controlled by the preparation of plans and contract documents so that an emergency contract can be let. The restoration project also will be subject to the approval of the Central Coast Commission created by the passage of Proposition 20 last last November.

The washout carried away approximately 300 feet of road at a point about five miles south of Big Sur. The depth of the washout is approximately 100 feet. Since the slipout Route 1 has been closed from Carmel to the San Luis Obispo County line.

Choral Concert Is March 18

Two distinguished collegiate choruses, the Loyola University Men's Chorus and the Mount Singers of Mount Saint Mary's College from Los Angeles will present a concert of Choral music on Sunday evening, March 18, 1973 in Carmel Mission Basilica, sponsored by the Serra Club of Monterey.

These chorus, numbering a total of 80 members, are under the direction of Paul Salamunovich has served as Associate conductor to Roger Wagner for the Rober Wagner and the Los Angeles Master Chorales. In the past ten years he has likewise presented almost 20 choral clinics, workshops, and festivials in twenty-seven states of the nation and in Canada. Presently he is in great demand throughout the country for his choral expertise.

The Choruses are on their sixteenth annual tour and will present ten concerts in Northern California during the Tour week. Their repertoire comprises selections for male and women's chorus, for mixed chorus and embraces a repertoire of examples from the whole range of sacred and secular music, serious and popular. They have been acclaimed on previous tours for the beauty of tone, the discipline and versatility exhibited in their singing.

General admission to the concert is $2 and tickets may be secured at Abinante Music Store, Monterey; the two Mediterranean Markets, Carmel and Del Monte Center; or from any Serra Club member.

Film About Ethiopia Is Planned

Jeffery Boswall, producer of wildlife films for the BBC, presents "Wildlife Safari to Ethiopia," an Audubon Wildlife Film to be shown at Pacific Grove Junior High School, this Friday, March 2, at 8 p.m.

This exceptional film is the product of a six-month journey through Ethiopia, beginning in what is one of the hottest areas on the earth, the Danakil Depression, 320 feet below sea level, and culminating on the top of the High Simien, 15,188 feet above the sea. This little known country has a greater range of habitats and a greater variety of plants and animals than any other African country. As Jeffery Boswall climbs from one plateau to another, he passes through the different terrains: lifeless baking salt desert, islands of fossilized coral in the Red Sea, the savannahs of the Awash National Park, the gorge of the Blue Nile, and the great 1,000 square mile Lake Tana, source of the Nile, the Abyssinian tablelands, where stands Addis Ababa.

This is the fourth presentation of a film series co-sponsored by the National Audubon Society and the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society. Single door is 1.25. Students and active military, 50 cents.
